In short:

The market is constantly changing at a rapid pace, customers are more demanding, opportunities present themselves, but also threats.

We live in a VUCA world

(Volatile - Uncertain - Complex - Ambiguous).

To make it in this world, we have to constantly adapt. Continuing to operate as we are used to is no longer enough to sustain ourselves.

Your company can anticipate such situations.

It is a question of being resilient and adaptable.

R<sup>2</sup> is based on three pillars, in which people are always central:

- Agile
Do twice as much in twice as little time' that is the core message of agile way of working. Daring to change and the people with the right competencies together into self-managing multifunctional teams in order to deliver projects with the highest effectiveness and efficiency, to deliver projects as requested by the customer.
- Lean
Continuous improvement of all business processes by avoiding all possible waste of time and resources.
The focus in this process is on the people and brings the employees to a 'Lean way of working'.
- One team
A team is only really a team when the '5 behaviours of Lencioni are present: trust in each other, discuss tensions and conflicts, full involvement in with the work, accountability and meeting deadlines, focus on the company's the result of the company and not on personal victories.

TARGET GROUP

With an audit, we examine at which level you are already working on these 3 pillars in your company. Afterwards, we propose our approach to tackle the pain points in your way of doing business.

Do the short audit of 10 questions already. It gives you an idea where you stand today in the field of Agile and Lean.
